

Patrolman Ward Enters His Big Family In Evening World's $100 Prize Contest

FILM SHOWING THEM AT PLAY ROUSES IRE OF CONGRESSMEN

Press Agent Invites Lawmakers to See Pictures of Their "Affairs."

(Special from a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Members of Congress are up in arms and an enterprising publicity agent of all the commotion. He got too many of them to attend his show and see themselves depicted, not as statesmen, but as human beings with strong amorous tendencies and a multitude of "affairs."

The title of the new play is "In the Shadow of the Dome," and when members of Congress received handsome engraved invitations to witness the premiere performance at a local theatre, they went almost en masse. The invitation suggested that they would see themselves "in action," and many of the colonels thought at once of the advantage of having it displayed in their respective districts. When they saw through several reels showing their "affairs" with blonde stenographers and other fair ladies, their indignation knew no bounds. It was the current topic of conversation in Congressional cloakrooms.

Members of the National Executive Committee of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners' Association of America, in session here, heard of the rumpus and hastened to investigate. They appointed a committee to give the play the "once over," and as a result a formal disavowal of the film was sent to members of Congress. They admit it gives a "false, indecent and unparliamentary portrait of our National Congress, dragging in the name of the National Capitol for advertising purposes."

The Motion Picture Owners' Association intimates that the picture was "put on" by advocates of a Federal motion picture censorship. "We cannot help believing," reads their letter, "that this film was inspired by artifice, trickery, fraud, misapprehension and with the object of prejudicing Congress against motion pictures."

The association calls on its membership, comprising a majority of motion picture houses, to ban this film, which is said to be owned by unknown producers.

Veteran Cop and His Wife
Have 12 Living Children,
All Born Here.

Mrs. Mary Ward, wife of Patrolman Owen Ward, of 710 East 220th Street, is the latest contestant for the Evening World's $100 prize for the largest family born in Greater New York. Mrs. Ward is the mother of thirteen children, twelve living. The three oldest children Peter, Owen Jr. and Mary have been married in the past year. The other children are James, Frank, Veronica, Madeline, Harold, Herbert, Viola, Anastasia and John.

DEPUTIES ADJOURN; BALK LLOYD GEORGE

No Conference Between Premiers on Silesia Seems Possible Before June.

Copyright, 1921, by The New York Evening World.
PARIS, May 21.—How staunchly the Chamber of Deputies is standing behind Premier Briand in his diplomatic duel with his British colleague in the matter of Upper Silesia was demonstrated when the Deputies unanimously voted to adjourn the debate on foreign affairs until Tuesday. Thereby Mr. Lloyd George's frantic efforts to inveigle the French Premier into an interlarded conference to-day or Sunday which might have hampered French freedom of action in dealing with the situation are definitely balked.

At the Foreign Office it is said the Premier had already declined to attend the Supreme Council meeting proposed by Mr. Lloyd George until the conclusion of the Chamber debate, and that probably there will be no such conference before June.

FINDS BABY AT HIS DOOR.

Jersey City Man Sees Girl Flee, but Fails to Overtake Her.
Awakened by a child crying at 1 o'clock this morning, John Reynolds, No. 150 Newark Street, Jersey City, went to the door and found a baby boy about two and a half months old, wrapped in a blue and white blanket, a block away Reynolds saw a girl running. He shouted at her and she ran faster. Reynolds gave the boy to the police, who took the child to the City Hospital and are trying to find the mother.

PINT OF MEDICINAL CHAMPAGNE SAVES LIFE OF A WOMAN

Case Leads to Request for a Ruling by the Prohibition Bureau.

(Special to The Evening World.)
WASHINGTON, May 21.—MEDICINAL CHAMPAGNE is the latest thing Mr. Volstead will have to worry about. The Prohibition Bureau has been asked for a ruling as a result of a query addressed to Representative A. E. B. Stephens of Ohio by Fred W. Schwabach of Cincinnati. An incident is related in which the life of a woman patient in a Cincinnati hospital was recently saved by the timely arrival of a pint of champagne. Notwithstanding the Volstead Act, the doctor claims "such cases are common."

TRANSIT PAYDAY PUT OFF AGAIN

New Commission $9,909 in Arrears for Salaries and Estimate Board Delays Action.

The 105 employees of the new Transit Commission learned to-day that their payday has been put off for at least another week, and there are threats from the legal department that steps will be taken to force the Board of Estimate to end the delay so the employees can pay their rent.

The Commission has been functioning now for two weeks and arrears of $9,909.82 in salaries have piled up in addition to the expenses of the Commission. At yesterday's session of the Board of Estimate former Justice Francis M. Scott, counsel for the Commission, presented a demand on the board that it supply the necessary funds in accordance with the law.

Mayor Hylan suggested requesting an opinion from the Corporation Counsel, but Comptroller Craig said the Transit law requires action forthwith and urged immediate consideration of a resolution transferring funds from the appropriation made for the old Transit Construction Commission. On a roll call the vote to delay action until next week was 11 to 5.

MIDNIGHT AUTOISTS QUIZZED.
Because of the prevalence of automobile thefts, the Police Department, especially on Long Island near the city line, is stopping automobile travelling late at night. The occupants are asked to explain their motives before being arrested. The inspection begins at midnight and is thorough.

REDUCED PRICES FOR SHEFFIELD MILK

During the month of June there will be a reduction in the price of the following Sheffield Products:

Sealot Grade A Milk . . . 17c. per qt. bottle
Household " B " . . . 14c. " " "
X Cream . . . 27c. " " "
Buttermilk . . . 11c. per qt. "
Loose Milk at Sheffield Stores 9c. " " "

This is the season of the lowest production costs and our retail prices are adjusted accordingly.

Milk is now at its best. The cows are in pasture. The new, green grasses make better milk and increase the flow tremendously. Milk is plentiful and is sold at a price that makes its use a real economy.

At the Sheffield Stores you may buy milk in your own container for 9 cents a quart. The same kind of milk we serve in bottles.

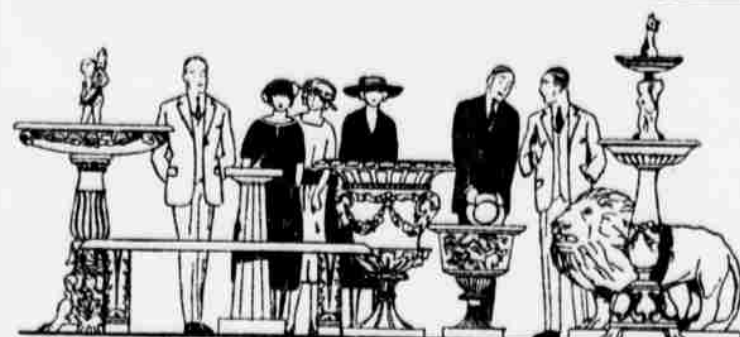

This combined service—store and wagon, makes the price of milk in New York City lower than any other large city in America.

FROM PARIS

Charming Blouses for young women

100, Monday, at the exceptionally low price of $7.50.

Six lovely models
Delightfully youthful in line, and of a simplicity truly Parisian.

Made entirely by hand, in France, of fine batiste, after our own carefully worked out specifications, embodying the proper sleeve and shoulder measurements for small women.

One little model has smart rippling frill and is hemstitched by hand—very becoming.

Another model has a sheer organdie collar and vestee effect, daintily trimmed with hand-drawn work.

And there are four other models—just as individual and charming. To be had in pink, French blue or white.

Fourth Gallery, New Building

It is not big type and big talk in the newspapers—but the quality, fashion and fair price of the goods in the store which make value and give lasting satisfaction.

Summer Furniture

You will find here a wealth of display of new, attractive, serviceable furniture for the verandah and for every room of the summer home.

For the Living-room

You'll like the five-piece set of reed and French cane furniture, shellac-finished in a soft poney brown and red. Cushioned in rich dark red broadcloth haircloth. (Oh! the gorgeous chintzes that will look rich and harmonious with those soft browns and reds!) There is a big settee, deep, low-armed, comfy, a round-top table, an arm chair, a rocker, all of smart shapes and restful lines; $708.

Or you might prefer an ivory three-piece set of willow with padded backs to settee and arm chair and handsome cushions in bright colors. The set includes a cretonne-lined lamp; $133.75.

For the Breakfast room

an ivory enameled willow set is perfect, with detachable glass top to the large, round table, four chairs, cretonne cushions; $220.

Or, perhaps, you will like better one of these lovely combinations in cane and enamel wood; a platinum grass, for instance.

For the Verandah

you will undoubtedly choose one of those complete ten-piece sets which leave nothing to be desired for that most important spot of the summer house. One in a greenish buff shade, with cushions gorgeously figured with artichokes—a new pattern—has two rockers, settee, arm chair, side chair, table, fernery, table lamp and floor lamp; $934.50.

The Peacock's Tail

In the big hall there will certainly be—there always is—a corner into which nothing will appropriately fit until you spy "the peacock's tail," a smart big willow chair with its high back spreading in the fan shape of a peacock's tail; $76. There is a smart little tabourette which matches it; $16. And these you may have enameled in any two colors you like, the more brilliant the more effective. Red and sky blue, for instance, or orange and black.
